ISO26000:2010 GUIDANCE ON CORPORATE SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY (CSR) TRAINING (PUBLIC / IN-HOUSE TRAINING PROGRAMME)

Introduction

The “ISO 26000 International Guidance Standard for Social Responsibility” was published on 1st of November 2010 by ISO after more than 5 years of drafting by a multi-stakeholder group of 450 Experts from 99 countries and 42 international liaison organizations.

The “ISO 26000 International Guidance Standard for Social Responsibility” outlines international recommendations for making your organization more socially responsible. It will guide you in building and delivering a long-term social responsibility strategy, whatever the nature of your business. ISO 26000 can help you address everything from working practices to environmental policies, sustainable development and the communities that your business organization impacted.

What is social responsibility? Social responsibility has become one of the most important factors to measure your organization’s performance and this is true of all sectors of society. Social responsibility is an organization’s legal and voluntary duty to consider its social and environmental impact of its decisions and activities. A corporate responsibility strategy outlines the ways that an organization contributes to sustainable development, engages with its stakeholders and behaves ethically.

The ISO26000 implementation will enable businesses to bring together best practice in terms of workforce, customers, neighbours fair trade and the important demands on our natural resources and our climate. Through the ISO26000 guidance process we have made an excellent input from customers, clients and society to ensure this is a practical and effective approach.

This course enables participants to learn about the best practices for implementing and managing a social responsibility program as proposed in ISO 26000:2010. The participant will learn the different core subjects and issues: human rights, labour practices, the environment, fair operating practices, consumer issues, community involvement and development. This training is fully compatible with SA8000 (Global social accountability standard by the Social Accountability International).
